EXPERIENCE

KLwebCo. Uttara,Dhaka — Frontend Developer

February, 2023 - May, 2023

I was a maintainer of their internal product, AuthCMS, which helps developers easily create and update content of a Next.js application.

Contributions:

- I integrated the GPT Model to an internal product.
- I integrated an email marketing feature into the internal product that allows website owners to send automated messages and select custom email templates from the admin dashboard.

WebDeveloperBD. (Remote)— Frontend Developer

October, 2022 - January , 2023

WebDeveloperBD is an Edtech Platform that helps learners to learn JavaScript and its ecosystem very deeply. I was a student there and learned JavaScript and React. Based on my learning performance, I got a chance to contribute to a real-life project with a mentor.

Contributions:

- I built several pages of the https://drataullah.com/ website, including the student dashboard after registration, course dashboard, exam dashboard, course details page, and exam details page.

Internship Outcome:

- Learned various rendering techniques such as SSR & CSR.
- Learned more details about Strapi.io, which is a great tool for easily creating APIs.
- Learned how to analyze a project for a client and how to handle and approach real-world problems during development..
- Learned multiple soft skills, including time management, client management, and project management..
